

Dr Nicole Brown

Social Research & Practice and Education Ltd.

Dear Nicole,

And so, rather quickly and abruptly, we are at the end of this year's seminar series, and of the Poetry As Research and Social Fiction Writing meet-ups. Of course, these initiatives will continue, so if you are interested to find out more and/or to join, or if you have any other topics, ideas, initiatives, which we could/should develop further, please, email Nicole Brown.

Looking ahead to the next academic year, please help me determine the focus for upcoming talks. Having covered positionality and ethics in Practice As Research, what should be next? To this end, please, complete this Microsoft Form, which should only take 2 minutes.

In other news, Dr Sara Young and myself have launched a Call for Contributions for the edited book "Ethics in Practice As Research: Interdisciplinary Perspectives". In short, we are looking for chapters that consider ethical issues arising from and in Practice As Research projects. Abstracts are due on the 25 August 2023, the full manuscript will be due on the 31 January 2024. Check out the link for full details, and please, pass the information on to your colleagues/students/friends.

Future seminars:

TBC.

Recent recordings:

Dr Kay Sidebottom's presentation on how to ethically account for environment, atmosphere and presence of non/human others in research.

Professor Jenny Parkes's presentation on ethical challenges and dilemmas encountered when researching violence with young people.

The Practice As Research network with its resources is free and always will be, but it does of course incur costs to run and to keep it running. If you use it and benefit, enjoy it and would like to keep it going, please, consider leaving something in the tip jar.

Thank you!

Over the summer I will have fewer newsletters, but I will still stay in touch. Wishing you a good and restful break, whenever you get to it...

Nicole
